The Committee also meets regularly with key policy makers at the European and international level, to engage in dialogue on migration and asylum policy and to identify areas where parliamentarians can make a difference.

Committee members take an active part in OSCE PA statutory meetings, putting forth recommendations for action to ensure that the topic of migration remains high on the Assembly’s agenda.

Enhanced co-operation and co-ordination within the OSCE as well as with other relevant international organizations, parliamentary assemblies and non-governmental organizations through briefings and joint initiatives is also a key aspect of the Committee’s work.
