ANNEX 2: COMPREHENSIVE LIST OF CCT EFFORTS & ACTIVITIES
REPORT OF THE CHAIR

Madam President,

Mr. Secretary General,

Distinguished Colleagues,

I am honoured to report on behalf of our Ad Hoc Committee on Countering Terrorism (CCT), which I chair since February 2020.

I want to begin by thanking our members for their active involvement and the value continuously added by their work. I would also like to thank our President for her political leadership, and our Secretary General for his dedicated support.

The war of aggression waged by the Russian Federation against Ukraine has brought new terrorism-related risks to the OSCE area.

Just like in other armed conflicts, the terrorist threat is likely to increase proportionally to the intensity of the fighting in Ukraine, as violent conflicts are a primary driver of terrorism. Terrorist attacks in countries involved in armed conflict are, as a matter of fact, seven times deadlier than attacks in peaceful countries!¹

In addition, terrorists increasingly engage in criminal businesses like smuggling, kidnapping and cyber-crimes to finance their operations. Especially cyber-crimes have seen a dramatic increase in Ukraine in the months leading up to the Russian Federation’s attack.²

But the war in Ukraine brought to our radar further “complexities”, for example in the context of the interaction of International Humanitarian Law (IHL) and Counter-Terrorism (CT) Legislation.

With the emergence of “hybrid groups”, which are both designated terrorist organizations and non-state armed groups engaging in belligerent activities, the relationship between IHL and CT legislation becomes rather blurred.

To not undermine the objectives of either legal regime, it is crucial to understand how the two are actually complementary in countering terrorism. Terrorist acts are always forbidden, in peacetime just like during armed conflict!

In fact, all acts or threats of violence against civilians with the primary purpose of spreading terror among the civilian population are strictly prohibited by IHL. As such, they shall be punished as war crimes whenever committed by a belligerent group in pursuance of its military objectives.

Essentially, a pragmatic approach is needed to ensure accountability of ALL terrorist acts, wherever and by whomever they are committed, including those perpetrated by supposedly private military groups or other “hybrid groups”, for instance the Russian Wagner Group.

Wagner has quickly emerged as a major terror actor during conflict-caused instability, undermining state authorities across the globe for political and financial gain, including in Mali, Sudan, the Central African Republic, Libya, Syria, Mozambique, Venezuela and Ukraine.

The increasingly prominent on-line nature of the terrorist propaganda, radicalization, recruitment and financing further complicates the tracing of sources and prosecution of perpetrators. Ultimately, new and widely accessible technologies have empowered many individuals to do more harm than ever before in human history.

Drones, 3D printing, AI, robotics, cyber weapons and social media, their pervasive reach and almost universal accessibility, even to children, are posing growing risks to our societies. Vulnerable audiences are at particular risk of becoming targets of propaganda and conspiracy theories on social media, where it is documented that lies spread 6 times faster than the truth!3

Overall, in the past year terrorist attacks have become more deadly with the lethality rising by 26%.4 The Sahel region is now the world’s “epicentre”of terrorism5, comprising 43% of the global total deaths of terrorism in 2022, compared to just 1% in 2007! This dramatic increase of terrorism in the Sahel region, which is adjacent to our region, is met with increasing far-right extremism in the West.

Dear colleagues,

While navigating this plethora of new risks and old challenges, we remain committed to effective parliamentary counter-terrorism responses in compliance with human rights, the rule of law and relevant international law.

Earlier today we held the 15th Meeting of the CCT, where we further explored the terrorist nature of the Wagner Group and firmly condemned its criminal activities and detrimental influence across the globe.

I want to reiterate the relevance of this topic and the importance of our action in the form of a resolution. The resolution calls on all participating States to designate the Wagner Group a terrorist organization and to ensure full accountability for all terrorist acts committed by the group.

I sincerely welcome ongoing efforts by several national parliaments to address this problem, and I hope that our work on the Wagner Group can provide a solid policy basis for further action by more national and international assemblies.

Ultimately, I believe that the growing influence of proxy military groups such as Wagner - who are prone to unnecessary violence for political and financial gain - will force us to revisit our traditional definition of “terrorist group”, so as to possibly include certain “hybrid groups” (i.e. groups that operate both as a non-state armed group and as a terrorist organisation).

Moreover, I am happy to report that we have also resumed our “field work” with an official visit to Switzerland on 21-22 March 2023.

In Geneva and Bern we engaged in enriching discussions on major trends and key challenges of counter-terrorism with selected representatives of international and national organizations. The visit proved useful also to get better acquainted with the new Swiss counter-terrorism legislation, which grants significant preventive powers to the Federal Police. I was particularly impressed by the conscientious efforts of the Swiss counter-terrorism authorities in ensuring its effective application while duly respecting human rights standards.

It is through visits such as this one that we can share important lessons learned in our countries and promote policy convergence on many key issues on our shared agenda. Hence, I want to commend our member, Ms. Ida Glanzmann-Hunkeler, for facilitating this very successful activity.

Finally, we continue to work closely with other parliamentary assemblies to facilitate inter-parliamentary dialogue and the exchange of promising practices and lessons learned on counter-terrorism.
To that effect, we look forward to chairing the Fourth Coordination Meeting of Parliamentary Assemblies this fall in Vienna, followed by the Second Parliamentary Policy Dialogue.

Both events will be organised with the critical support of the United Nations Office on Counter Terrorism. This co-operation has enabled us to extend the reach of our actions well beyond the OSCE region, becoming a positive example for many of our peers!

Before concluding, I would like to thank the International Secretariat for its diligent commitment and professional support over the years, without which our parliamentary efforts would have lacked operational capacity and much needed complementarity with those of the OSCE, and of other International Organizations.

Thank you.
The OSCE Parliamentary Assembly established the Ad Hoc Committee on Countering Terrorism (CCT) in July 2017 to strengthen the contribution of OSCE parliamentarians in addressing violent extremism and radicalization.

2023 SPOTLIGHT: Presiding the UN Coordination Mechanism

The OSCE PA was nominated as the first President of the new United Nations Coordination Mechanism among Parliamentary Assemblies on Counter-Terrorism in June 2022. Through this platform, the CCT promotes OSCE counter-terrorism commitments across the globe, extending the reach of its actions and fostering greater coherence of parliamentary efforts.

Areas of Focus

- Promote the successful prosecution, rehabilitation, and reintegration of FTFs and their families, including women and children, in the OSCE Region.

- Strengthen border security and information sharing through sound Advance Passenger Information (API), Passenger Name Records (PNR) and biometric data management systems, in accordance with UNSCR 2396.

- Foster prevention efforts and promote sensible global parameters & guidance to counter radicalization, both offline and online.

- Support victims of terrorism and strengthen the role of victims’ associations through advocacy and awareness-raising.

- Explore the intersection of terrorism with other serious threats, such as bio-terrorism, terrorism financing, nuclear proliferation, A.I and hybrid threats.

Key Achievements

- Strengthened the engagement of parliamentarians, assessed new trends and shared key lessons learned through dozens of expert meetings (20), international and regional parliamentary conferences (20) and field visits to OSCE participating States (10).

- Developed innovative policy guidance in topical areas of counter-terrorism: 1) Preventing and Countering Terrorism and Violent extremism (2018 Berlin Resolution); 2) Addressing the Threats Stemming From the Return & Relocation of FTFs (2019 Luxembourg Resolution), and; 3) Victims of Terrorism (2022 Birmingham Resolution).

- Promoted the implementation of relevant international obligations, such as on border security and information sharing stemming from UNSCR 2396 (2019), through targeted parliamentary oversight initiatives and consistent public messaging.

- Boosted international co-ordination through a network of key partnerships, including with the OSCE, the United Nations and various regional interparliamentary assemblies. Since June 2022, the OSCE PA has been chairing the first ever Co-ordination Mechanism of Parliamentary Assemblies on Counter-Terrorism (under UN aegis).

- Encouraged OSCE governments to uphold inclusive and human rights-based responses to counter terrorism & disinformation, and lend critical support to the most vulnerable and exposed groups in society, throughout the COVID-19 emergency (2020-2022).

Upcoming

- 15th Meeting of CCT with a focus on the terroristic nature of the Wagner Group, 3 July 2023 (Canada)
- Fourth Coordination Meeting of Parliamentary Assemblies & Policy Dialogue, Fall 2023 (Austria)
